A Fearful Poison.

From the microbe which gives rise in human beings to the disease known as tetanus, or lockjaw, a poison called tetanine is obtained which is over 100 times more powerful than strychnine. A fragment of tetanine so small as to be invisible to the naked eye would kill almost instantaneously the strongest man. One fifteen-thousandth part of a grain of it has caused the death of a horse 1,000,000,000 times its own weight.—Pearson's.

Purely Feminine.

Small Niece—Uncle John, if you don't give me a cent I'll be mad at you. Uncle John—Here's the coin. Small Niece—And for 2 cents, Uncle John, I'll like you ever so much and for 3 I'll love you and for 4 I'll simply idolize you.—New York Globe.

Romance in High Life.

"Do you love me?" It was an old question, but he sprang a variation of the stereotyped reply: "I love the very ground you motor over," he said.—Kansas City Journal.

Must Be Pretty.

He—Have you ever looked in the glass when you are angry? She—No; I'm never angry when I look in the glass.

Who has deceived thee as often as thyself?—Franklin.

Told by the Fates.

"Yes," said the coster, "it was superstition as made me marry my cousin. It was a tossup between her an' Mary. An' one day I was thinking which of 'em to have—Mary or Anna—when I saw a sign on the ground. I picked it up, an' I'm blessed if it didn't say on it, 'Har-anna,' so I took her."—London Stray Stories.

Just Good, Plain Business.

Every day now, some one asks us to "take in" their big car in a deal for a New Ford. You know why—too much expense for maintenance and not enough efficiency.

They nearly all want the Ford after they run a big car. Now, be reasonable, why not you profit by the experience of others.—don't wait until you lose several hundred dollars (and you know its true) buying anything but a Ford, but buy a Ford First and get the most possible service.

For Township Treasurer

I desire to announce to the voters of Paw Paw township that I am a candidate for the office of township treasurer. I have lived in Paw Paw and immediate vicinity all my life, and have supported the republican ticket for 43 years. Your consideration of my candidacy is sincerely solicited at the April caucus.

Ed Nash adv.

NOTICE

Since the 9th of Jan. comes on Sunday I will make Monday, the 10th the last day for taking taxes at one per cent. I will be at the Savings Bank again Saturday, the 15, and each Wednesday and Saturday following until March 1st.

L. J. Donham, Treasurer.

A Sure Way of Saving.

An ingenious method of putting his savings beyond his own reach was adopted by a German writer who found from dire experience that all his profits melted away as soon as earned. Having made $80,000 by a fortunate literary speculation, he placed the whole of the money, together with his will, in the Imperial Deposit Bank at Berlin and on receiving the receipt from the cashier deliberately tore it up. The cashier thought he was mad and told him angrily that it would take fully three years before he could expect to obtain a duplicate receipt. "That is just why I have torn up the original," calmly remarked the depositor, "and now the money is safe for that time."

Standard of the Bourbons.

The Bourbon standard was pure white. Henry IV., the first Bourbon king of France, adopted this plain white flag as the national emblem, but under Louis XV., about the middle of the Bourbon or white flag period, the minister of the marine ordered that "the ensigns are to be blue, powdered with yellow fleur-de-lis, with a large white cross in the middle." The flag of Charles VI. of the house of Valois represented three fleur-de-lis gold on a blue field.

IDLENESS.

A man may become weary of daily toil, but it does not produce as much depression as does daily idleness.

Ocean Liners' Signals.

One short blast from a liner's whistle when she meets another liner means that she is taking the starboard course, two blasts that she is taking her course to port, three that she is going full speed astern.
